

Thomas Klementsson

For a couple of years, Link Image has had the great pleasure of collaborating with Thomas Klementsson, one of Sweden's most dynamic and trend-sensitive photographers. Thomas has had prestigious fashion commissions for magazines such as L'Officiel, Elle and Plaza. He has also photographed Swedish designer Karin Rodebjer and Swedish Fifth Avenue Shoe Repair. In the last couple of weeks we have received new and exciting material by Thomas Klementsson. Search on his name or under the heading New Images at our website www.linkimage.com.

More and more designers are using our archive to search for book cover designs. To facilitate the handling of publisher queries, cover images purchased through Link Image carry exclusive rights for the publishing of book covers on respective markets. This ensures that publishers do not risk the same image turning up on another cover on the same market. Link Image offers a unique collection of photographs with individual and artistic expression at a comparatively low price. The only added cost is a model fee for images that are not model-released.

News:
