

Magnus Magnusson

We have great pleasure in presenting a new photographer in our archive, Magnus Magnusson. His chief focus is fashion photography, and since he began as a photographer in 2001 he has divided his time between Paris and Stockholm.

The cinematic tone of his images is enhanced by the almost constant flood of daylight. The genuinely photographic feel of Magnus imagery adds credibility to the subject and makes it an outstanding example of its genre. His commercial work has appeared in BON, BIG Magazine, Glamour France and H&M, among others.

As well as his own photography, he also works on the new fashion magazine Perfect, which has rapidly become a vital forum for the Swedish fashion photography.
