

Landscapes

A vast landscape guarded by the right of public access. Our Swedish nature is unique, something we hardly consider in our day-to-day lives, but put into a larger perspective it gives us a close proximity and a natural relationship to the non-urban environment that surrounds us. To do nature justice we need to look beyond the technology that gives a sharp image and away from the classic motifs of nature photography. The photographers at Link Image sense the sweet fragrance of grass and the wind in their hair as they put their own personal touch to our very special right of public access. See more by searching on words like landscape, grass or wind at www.linkimage.com.

News:

Martin Bogren is showing his images in an exhibition entitled I Rajasthan finns inget hav at Kulturhuset in Stockholm, Sweden from March 21 until May 20. The images are also available in the book Ocean published by Journal Förlag.

Gerry Johansson's images from Ulan Bator are on view at the GUN Gallery in Stockholm for one day, Monday March 30. www.gungallery.com.

Gerry Johansson also has an exhibition in Malmö until April 11. Further details at www.aklundh.se.

Link Image is also setting up stall at UpDate, a photography expo in Berlin on April 24. Pay us a visit to have a chat and see more of our fantastic images.

Image above by Gerry Johansson.

For more information, please contact:
mia.bengtsson@linkimage.com
Phone: +46-8-578 664 90